INFANT SON DIES FROM PNEUMONIA LAST EVENING

Last evening at 10 o'clock life left the body of Hugh Langdon Hussey, the 13-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hussey, and passed to its eternal heavenly home. The little boy, which was the joy and happiness of his parents and brothers, was taken sick several days ago with broncho pneumonia, and everything known to medical science to alleviate the child's sufferings and restore its normal good health was adhered to, but of no avail. The child was very bright for its age and a general favorite with all the acquaintances and friends of the family, who sadly deplore its demise and offer consolation to the sorrowing mother, father and little brothers.

The time of burial has not been announced at the time of going to press. The grandparents, residing in Reno, are expected to arrive tomorrow morning. The funeral will most likely be held Monday.

NEW CANALS APPEAR.

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., Nov. 25.—The Lowell observatory announced that new canals on Mars were seen and photographed on November 21. The new features show the canal system is an active one, and is in process of change and development at the present time.

Changed Name to Swindle the People

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The government has probably won a very important point in its efforts to prove the charges of fraudulent use of the mails against George Graham Rice, B. H. Scheffels and their associates. Judge Ray has admitted temporarily evidence relating to the operations of Nat C. Goodwin & Co., the name under which Rice was operating when he secured control of Rawhide Coalition. The contention of the government was that B. H. Scheffels & Co., was simply a continuation of Nat C. Goodwin & Co., under a change of name.

The jury was excused while both sides argued the question of legality of evidence concerning the operations of Rice while operating as Goodwin & Co., before the organization of Scheffels & Co. The defendants contend that the indictments allege offenses committed under the Scheffels regime, that they were not responsible for the sins of Goodwin & Co. even though Rice was a party to them. In the course of the argument the government contended that Goodwin and Rice, as already shown, were interested in the business of Scheffels & Co. up to the time of the raid, and that the contracts and wicked ways of Goodwin & Co. were transferred to B. H. Scheffels & Co. under the new name. The district attorney said that the scheme to defraud the public which was operated by the Scheffels concern, was a cloak to conceal a well defined purpose to continue the swindle.

FATALITIES EXPLOSION AND STORM

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 25.—At least 30 lives are reported lost, and 75 persons injured by an explosion at Bibby & Sons' oil cake mills here yesterday. The mill is burning and it is feared others are lost.

VIENNA, Nov. 25.—The Austrian steamer Romania was wrecked yesterday near Rovigno. It is reported 60 were drowned. A sirocco swept the coast from the Adriatic for three days, with great damage to shipping.

"SHERIFF BOB" FAILS TO APPEAR ON SCENE

PARIS, Nov. 25.—Madame Lina Cavalieri, the opera singer, and R.

GOVERNOR AND PARTY PAY VISIT TO OIL FIELDS

Stephen S. Johnson, of New York, and James G. Lindsay, of Philadelphia, and president of the Tonopah Liberty Mining company, accompanied by Governor T. L. Oddie, in his sawed-off auto from Carson to Mina and then 45 miles northeast of that place to the oil district. These gentlemen are well pleased with the formation and oil shale and have ordered an eastern oil expert to make a report on same. The three gentlemen visited Tonopah, Governor Oddie and Mr. Johnson returning to Carson yesterday morning. Now that coal has been found in abundance at Coaldale, it is only a matter of time and development work before oil will be found flowing wells. Where coal is, so is oil.

HURT BY A CAVE-IN IN OLD MONTEZUMA

GOLDFIELD, Nov. 25.—Lee Daike was crushed down by a cave-in at Montezuma yesterday. His head and shoulders were injured, superficially accompanied with some internal injuries, the extent of which are not yet known. Luckily, just after the accident, a team arrived from Goldfield and Daike was quickly brought to the Sisters' hospital.

SHOCKING STORIES TOLD ON THE WITNESS STAND

Woman Testifies Husband Whom She Murdered Proposed Life of Shame—Would Sell Her Beauty for a Living.

DENVER, Nov. 25.—Gertrude Gibson Patterson, charged with the murder of her husband, Charles A. Patterson, took the stand late yesterday in her own defense and began the recital of her married life. By this narrative her counsel hopes to free her. An hour later the defense had passed its most critical stage. The expected objection of the state to the introduction of her story had been made, and the court had ruled favorably on its admissibility.

Mrs. Patterson told of her marriage with Patterson at Carmel-by-the-Sea, California, in September of 1908, after a three months' acquaintance, and of their return to Chicago soon after.

In November, she declared, Patterson began making incessant demands for money, which she was unable to give him.

"One day he said to me," testified the witness, leaning forward in her chair, "I know how to fix it so neither of us will have to work. You go down to George's place to Chicago resort. An attractive girl like you can get lots of money. I don't care what you do, so long as I am in on it."

"Some time afterward," Mrs. Patterson continued, "Mr. Patterson came to me and asked me to make a proposition to Emil W. Strauss, of whose friendship for me he knew. I ordered him from the flat. He gave me my first beating, and I was in bed for two days."

Then the witness told the jury how she met Strauss casually and told him of the unhappiness of her married life.

"He said he pitied me," she testified, "that he was going to Europe and wished he could take me with him. I told Mr. Patterson, who said:

VERY HANDSOME BUSINESS BLOCK

The new business block now under course of construction for the new home of the Richard Mercantile company, on their Main street lot, when ready for occupancy will be one of the finest structures that adorns the main thoroughfare. The entire front will be of French plate-glass. The structure will be fire-proof. The contractors, Adams & Johnson, now have a large force of mechanics at work and expect to have the building completed for the corporation by December 25.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES AT ST MARK'S CHURCH

The special Thanksgiving services at the Episcopal church tomorrow evening will be full of interest. Miss Lenore Sollender has lately filled the position of leading soprano soloist in California churches, while Howard DeCoursey has had long experience in choir work. Miss Wittenberg, the leader of St. Mark's choir, and Thomas Richard, are both well known.

The Rev. George Gallup is going to give a lecture, by special request, on "Oxford University as a Religious Place."

He is a graduate of this famous college, to which so many of our American students go to take a post-graduate course. When at the university Mr. Gallup was secretary for the Y. M. C. A.

BANKER IS SENTENCED TO TERM IN PRISON

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—William J. Cummins, a Nashville banker, head of the suspended Carnegie Trust company, recently convicted of the theft of $140,000 from the trust fund, was sentenced to an indeterminate term in the state prison from four years and eight months to eight years and eight months.

Old newspapers for sale at this office—25c per hundred.

"Tell Strauss he can take you to Europe with him if he gives me $1500." When I refused he flew at me and called me vile names."

With this experience, Mrs. Patterson continued, she again saw Strauss and told him what had happened, and he agreed to give Patterson $1500 and take her to Europe with him provided Patterson gave him a written statement freeing him from blame in the matter.

"I telephoned my husband," said Mrs. Patterson, "and arranged to meet him at the bank, where I gave him $1500 which he deposited to his credit."

Then she testified how Patterson had taken her to the train, where she was to leave for her trip abroad with Strauss. At Paris, she said, she found a letter from her husband.

"I have about come to the conclusion you don't intend to come back to me," she said the letter read, "and if you don't come at once I will follow you and kill you." The witness said she showed the letter to Strauss, who gave her $500 and sent her back on the next steamer. She says she never saw Strauss since.

On her return to Chicago, she said, Patterson met her at the train. He asked her how much money she brought back, and when told she had none, he flew into a rage and beat her.

Then she told of quarrels and beatings caused by her refusal to sell her automobile and give the money to Patterson. It was here that Special Prosecutor Horace G. Benson interrupted with objections as to the admission of such testimony. After the court's decision was rendered, adjournment was taken for the day.

M'NAMARA JURY GROWS SLOWLY

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 25.—The McNamara jury took appreciable form last night and spread over the jury box from the end where Juror Robert Bain had sat for over seven weeks with little company. Twelve men were in the box at the close of court. Five of these are sworn jurors, and of the seven others, the defense is sure to excuse four. Unless conditions change, the state will not excuse any, and this means eight sworn jurors in the box. This is not quite two-thirds of the number to be sworn, as the state is to insist upon its legal rights to swear in fourteen, two to be used as emergency jurors, so as to avoid a mistrial for jury causes.

The defense is not satisfied with any of the men now in the box, but to use seven peremptory challenges would leave them but four more, and Attorney Darrow believes he will get along with four, so as to save his challenges for others who are still more objectionable than those now in the box.

Three new jurors, F. A. Brode, G. Blisbee and J. H. Clarke, were added to the jury yesterday, making eight in all. Four were excused by the defense and none by the state on peremptory challenges.

Darrow challenged Talesmen Olcott, McBurney, Marshall and Stevens, and when Brode learned he had not been challenged he told the judge there were reasons why he could not serve. After a talk in chambers with the judge he returned, with tears in his eyes, and was sworn.

The judge said the reasons related to business that would be adjusted.

CLEW GIVEN TO SLAYER OF JEWELER

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—Betrayed by the woman to whom he had paid constant attention for a year, John R. Rogers, suspected of having murdered Benjamin Goodman, a jeweler, on a Saturday night, confessed to the detective last evening that he knew the whereabouts of the missing jewels, valued at $5000, taken from Goodman's person.

Rogers led the police to the dingy basement where Goodman was killed and produced the key of a safety deposit box which contained the jewelry taken from the murdered man. Although he professed to have knowledge of the murder, Rogers disclaimed any part in it.

Hazel Smith, the woman in the case, wore a ring stolen from the dead man when she was taken into custody.

She gave the police information that led to the location of the stolen gems.

Rogers merely smiled when accused of the murder. He was taken to the scene and shown the blood stains, but the ordeal apparently did not agitate him. Rogers accuses M. Frattini, also employed at the produce house in which Goodman met his death. Frattini is under arrest.

Industrial Workers and Authorities Mix

ABERDEEN, Wash., Nov. 25.—A riot following the arrest of several members of the Industrial Workers of the World was averted here last night by the arrival of the fire department, which drenched the would-be rioters and scattered them for the time being.

The I. W. W. telegraphed to other cities in this state, Oregon and British Columbia, summoning aid, and it is said 250 recruits are on the way. In anticipation of further trouble, a force of 500 special policemen were sworn in last night. The I. W. W. made several attempts lately to hold meetings in the streets of this city other than those assigned to them, and this resulted in numerous arrests.

A crowd carrying a red flag appeared in the streets last night and defied arrest. Then a mob organized and marched toward the city hall to take from the cells the men imprisoned for violating the street-speaking ordinances and who were awaiting trial.

The city council was in session in rooms above the jail at the time, and when members were notified by lings As soon as these are completed Mayor Parks immediately summoned police and firemen. In the meantime the mob had arrived and the speaker had just mounted a soap box when he was arrested. The I. W. W. demonstration began.

Fire Chief Gambin ordered the hose turned on the crowd, which was driven down one street after another, until it finally gave up the battle. The entire town was in a state of frenzy. An effort will be made by citizens to main control of the situation. If it is found this is beyond their power, the governor will be asked to call out the National Guard.

JURY FINDS M'DEVIOT GUILTY

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Nov. 25.—Dr. Arthur W. McDavit, the dentist charged with the abduction of Jessie McDonald, a school girl, took the stand in his own defense. The evidence in the entire case is in, and the case is in the hands of the jury.

Mrs. McDavit was called to the stand and testified that she raised most of the money used for the defense of her husband, but admitted another woman who, she said, was the mother of another of McDavit's children, also contributed to the fund.

McDavit was called to the stand, much to the surprise of the big courtroom crowd. His testimony was brief and closed the case. "I'm innocent of the crime charged in the complaint," he testified. "Most of what she said was true, but she was willing. Not once, however, after July 1, did I commit the crime with which I was charged."

Because of a change in the criminal law of the state, it was necessary for the prosecution to prove that McDavit was guilty of the crime charged against him since July 1, 1911. During the day it developed that the mysterious "Bill" mentioned by the girl yesterday, was William A. Kafer, a bartender and friend to McDavit, who was subpoenaed as a witness, but not called to the stand.

McDavit was found guilty yesterday afternoon. The maximum penalty is a year in jail. It was also charged the girl was under hypnotic influence of the doctor, who is a married man.

TONOPAH "76" BEGINS ACTIVE DEVELOPMENT

Actual work began yesterday on the Tonopah "76" ground, when P. D. Brown, foreman, with a force of men, commenced the construction of blacksmith shop and other buildings on the coming of the mob, work on the permanent shaft, a compartment and man-way affair, will begin and be continued till a depth of several hundred feet is attained, or until the ore bodies are penetrated. In addition to the above work, which will be done on the Sago Fraction and "76" claim, patent work will be one on the other claims of the group.

The work which the "76" company is projecting will be watched with a great degree of interest, as with the favorable location of the ground, in line with the continuation of the known ore deposits of the district, it is almost a certainty that with depth they will reach the pay.

MURDERER CAPTURED.

EUREKA, Cal., Nov. 25.—Barney Shank, charged with the murder of little John Pepper, 10 years old, by chopping the child's head off, was brought to the county jail here.

Editor J. H. Buck, of Mina, is spending a few days in Tonopah.

SMUGGLING RING HAS BEEN BROKEN UP

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—One of the largest Chinese smuggling plots unearthed by the federal officers in many years was revealed when "Crappy" Nelson was arraigned before Commissioner Foote on a charge of bringing Chinamen into this country from Canada.

Twenty men charged with being implicated in the plot are now under arrest at Chicago, New York and Detroit. The latter city is said to be the headquarters of the gang.
